

RSD Facets	Connecting the Assignment to the RSD Facets
Embark and clarify What am I supposed to do?            What do I need to find out?            Why do I need to find this out?            What are my research questions?            What are the keywords and phrases of the task?            How will the assignment be communicated or presented?            When is the due date?            What am I expected to learn from doing this assignment?            What skills do I need to undertake the assignment?
Find and Generate What do I already know about finding information?            Do I know how to find the information that I need?            What do I need to ask or learn more about to find the information that I need?            Can I find information from a variety of resources?            Do I need information from primary or secondary sources?
Evaluate and Reflect Have I found the information that I need?            How well does the information answer my research questions?            How reliable and credible is this information?            Do I have the skills to extract the information that I need?            Have any new questions emerged?            Does anything need to be clarified at this stage of the process?
Organise and Manage How will I record the information or data?            Can I take meaningful notes?            How will I organise my notes?            How will I record where the information comes from?            Do I know how to construct a bibliography?            How will I manage and store information in different formats such as images, video, data or artefacts?
Analyse and Synthesise Am I able to interpret the information/data?            How will I combine the information I have found?            How will I bring my new understandings together?            How will I link concepts and draw conclusions?
Communicate and Apply With whom will I share my assignment?            Have I prepared an appropriate response to the topic?            How will I clearly, effectively and accurately communicate what I have learned?            Have I checked the assignment guidelines?            How will I receive feedback on my assignment?
